White House Calls Steel Industry, Union to Confer

MOBILIZATION CHIEF HOPES TO END STRIKE

Washington (AP)—The White House today called union and management leaders to a meeting tomorrow in a move to end the steel strike.

The invitation went out to leaders of the CIO Steelworkers' Union and to top-level industry spokesmen.

It was sent by John R. Steelman, acting mobilization chief.

He summoned them to a meeting at his office in the old State Department building at 10 a. m. (EST) tomorrow.

Philip Murray's steelworkers' union went on strike Monday minutes after the Supreme Court struck down President Truman's order seizing the nation's steel mills.

Steelman noted that union-management leaders met with him last month in an attempt to work out a new contract. Those meetings broke off May 4 with no indications of any substantial progress to a settlement.

Steelman said the conferees at those meetings agreed to adjourn, subject to recall.

Steelman's telegram went out to six industry leaders and to CIO President Murray.

By LEE LINDER

Pittsburgh (AP)—Twin-pronged moves by industry and Congress today were aimed at ending quickly the strike of 650,000 CIO United Steelworkers that has cut the nation's steelmaking by 90 per cent.

As the crippling walkout stretched into the third day, officials of the six biggest steel firms scheduled a secret huddle in New York.

Its aim: To invite Steelworker Chief Philip Murray to resume bargaining talks within 48 hours. Murray, president of both the CIO and the steelworkers, had no comment.

Cpl. Richard Hartz, 23, of Cranford, Allegheny County, Pa., was treated yesterday at Underwood Hospital. Three passengers on the plane escaped injury. Hartz is on leave from Forbes Airfield, Topeka, Kan.

Lifeline Blockade Is eased by Russians

Berlin (AP)—The Russians mysteriously relaxed half of their two-way blockade of Allied military patrols on Berlin's lifeline autobahn today—one day after the British had laid bloodless siege to the Communists' Radio Berlin building.

Tactful Russian guards let an ast-bored American military police jeep travel the 110-mile road from Western Germany to Berlin after a 10-day ban, but turned back both American and British jeeps which tried to make the trip from Berlin to the West.

American officials, recalling a previous seven-day blockade on the autobahn which started without warning on May 8, declined to speculate whether it was really off gain. They planned to test the blockade again tonight. The patrols assist any Allied vehicles which may have breakdowns on the autobahn.

Meanwhile, Communist defenders of beleaguered Radio Berlin in the British sector cried defiance at their besiegers.

Warren High to Graduate 218 Seniors Tonight

Kiwanis Club and Medical Society Honor Eaton as Award Is Presented

DR. J. R. SUGERMAN, left, president of the Warren County Medical Society, presents to R. Pierson Eaton the Benjamin Rush award for outstanding service rendered to medicine.

In full appreciation and good fellowship, Warren Kiwanis sponsored a testimonial dinner at the YWCA, Tuesday evening, to honor R. Pierson Eaton, a member of the club, for his faithful endeavor as president of the Board of Directors of Warren General Hospital, and to see presented to Mr. Eaton the Benjamin Rush Award for 1952. This award is given to a lay person, recommended by the committee on public relations of the Warren Medical Society for his contribution to medicine, who is in turn voted upon by the entire society and the recommendation is then forwarded to the Pennsylvania State Medical Society by which organization the award is issued.

Organize 'Friends of South Street School' in Attempt To Retain Three Lower Grades

"Friends of South Street School" became an actual organization instead of simply an implication, Tuesday night, when a determined gathering of East Siders voted to concentrate in a small group of representatives its appeal to the Warren Board of School Directors for a continuance of at least the lower grades in South Street school in order that the younger students may not risk their safety in having to cross dangerous intersections in walking to more distant buildings.

The East Siders voiced themselves as being in favor of the new elementary school in Conewango avenue, and made it plain that they have no controversy with the School Board in that respect. The object of their newly formed "Friends of South Street School" is to protect the younger children from traffic hazards until they are old enough to cross dangerous intersections with less danger to life and limb.

Speakers who addressed the gathering, which taxed the capacity of the Penn Bowling Center, claimed that they felt cooperation with the School Board could result in salvaging at least three grades in the South Street school. While they felt the closing of the school was "cut and dried" and that the Board and school superintendent had given them "evasive answers" in their attempt to avoid eventual closing of the school, they still went on record as having not given up an attempt to win the Board's cooperation.

Fourteen were elected as a board of directors: Mike Bova, Mrs. Santo Guinta, Louis Critelli, Mrs. Lillian Baldensperger, Mrs. L. D'Angelo, James Valone, Mrs. Martha Shattuck, James Miller, James Franz, Ken Williams, Mrs. R. Carlson, Mrs. Bert Punsky, Richard McClement and Tony Oriole. In turn, the directors are to select three members either from this group or from the organization as a whole to confer with the School Board.

The meeting went on record in favor of asking the School Board to make its promised survey of South Street school to ascertain the actual cost of rehabilitating the structure for continued use.

Many Children Would Like To See Circus

When the "greatest show on earth" comes to Warren on July 13th, many underprivileged children will view the spectacle due to the generosity and fine cooperation of local civic groups and fraternal organizations.

However, there are still children who are waiting for an invitation. Any organization desiring to provide the means whereby this can be accomplished, is requested to contact the Warren Jaycees.

COMMUNISTS' STRIKES FALL FLAT IN PARIS

Paris (AP)—Communist efforts to paralyze Paris with a 24-hour sit-down strike appeared to fall flat again today. Work was normal in most factories and the metropolis showed almost no sign of obedience to the Red strike call.

Steel-helmeted police, many armed with tear gas bombs and gas masks, blanketed the city, however, to prevent any violent Red demonstration against the West.

The communist-controlled General Confederation of Labor CGT ordered the strike in the capital as a protest against the arrests last week of France's top Red, Party Secretary General Jacques Duclos, and Andre Stille, editor of the party paper l'Humanite.

But like the abortive general walkout the CGT called for all France after the arrests, today's demonstration appeared to have fizzled.

A communique from the Public Works Ministry, issued at 9:30 a. m., listed only scattered incidents of delays in transportation or other public projects. All were outside Paris. The chief stoppage was a strike by tugboat crews at Marseille, delaying movement of ships in the harbor.

Paris buses, subways and suburban trains ran on schedule.

UNEMPLOYMENT HITS POTTSVILLE SECTION

Pottsville, Pa. (AP)—Unemployment, a familiar malady in this hard coal mining area, is back again for 400 miners.

The men were left jobless by the closing yesterday of the Reppel Colliery near St. Clair. It means more than 10,000 are now unemployed in Schuylkill county.

Benjamin Hay, general manager of the half-century-old company, said of the closing:

"We've been losing money for several years because there's less demand for coal. When you are only working two or three days a week like we have been, you still must meet operating costs for a seven-day week."

Peter Burinsky, a 46-year-old hoisting engineer who has worked around anthracite mines since he was 12, said the men generally are "pretty sick over the news."

"It's a good thing we have wives now," he added. "At least they can work in dress factories until we get another job."

BROWN PROMOTED BY ALLEGHENY LUDLUM

Pittsburgh (AP)—Truman E. Brown, district sales manager for Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp. in Detroit, has been promoted to assistant to the vice president in charge of sales.

Jan R. Kiltie, a member of the Detroit sales staff, will succeed Brown and H. H. Lardin, formerly of Tarentum, moves up to assistant manager. Lardin has been with the company since 1919 and in Detroit since 1929.

SUSPENDED OFFICER FACES NEW CHARGE

Pittsburgh (AP)—Fred Burdell, suspended North-Bradford policeman charged with a $105,000 robbery of a Butler coal dealer's home, faced an additional charge of assault and battery today.

John Kurtz of nearby Cavittsville said Burdell attacked him Memorial Day.

HOLD TOP HONORS—Three members of this year's senior class of Warren High concluded their studies in a photo-finish for places on the annual commencement program. Il Again Threatens Armies Will March But Wants Meeting Munsan, Korea (AP)—United Nations and Communist truce negotiators today exchanged strongly worded notes on prisoners of war. The Reds backed their with a renewed threat that Red armies in Korea might march.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il laid on the Panmunjom conference table a written protest against what the Reds termed "barbarous and cowardly" treatment of captured Reds on Koje Island. He reminded the Allies of earlier warnings that Red armies would not sit idle while Communist soldiers are "massacred."

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., demanded that the Reds "without further delay" account for nearly 1,000 United Nations soldiers believed captured by the Reds but never listed by them. The senior U. N. Command delegate's note listed 91 names, mostly Americans, to add to 895 names compiled by the U. N. since December.

The names will not be made public. The 34-minute session produced no progress toward settlement of the truce-blocking issue of what to do about 100,000 captured Reds which Allied screening showed refused to be repatriated in the event of an armistice. Only 70,000 Allied held POWs have said they would return to Red soil without a fight.

SEVEN EMBEZZLERS TO FACE SENTENCE

Pittsburgh (AP)—Seven persons who have pleaded guilty to charges of embezzlement will be sentenced June 13 by four federal judges.

Among them is William Paul Smeltzer, former assistant cashier at the First National Bank of New Kensington, who pleaded guilty to embezzling $550,000. George Shla-rella and Otto R. Grofendel, fellow employees of Smeltzer, also will be sentenced. Others are:

Mrs. Goldie Caldwell, charged with embezzling $28,000 at the National Bank of Alexandria; August Lamantia of Homer City; Mrs. Fay M. Uelson, Beaver Falls, and Richard E. Slaughenhoupt of Meadville.

Harold Nesbitt, 46, former president of the Homer City State Bank, posted $10,000 bond yesterday for his appearance in court on charges of embezzling $748 in 1949.

Scott Calderwood, executive officer, both of Warren, will report aboard the USS Kyne (DE-744) at the New York Naval Shipyard, Brooklyn, N. Y., on June 15 for 28 days' training duty.

Under the Naval Reserve training program all personnel are required to take two weeks' training duty each fiscal year and by taking this month's cruise the local officers will have completed their duty for two years. The USS Kyne is expected to hit ports in England and France during the period.

In its 75th annual commencement exercises, to be held at eight o'clock this evening in First Presbyterian church, Warren High School will graduate 218 members of the 1952 senior class. Bill Would Delay Strike Endangering National Defense

Washington (AP)—Sen. Maybank (D-S.C.) today proposed a bill that would forbid for 120 days strikes endangering the national defense.

During that cooling off period, an emergency board would investigate the issues and make recommendations for settling the dispute.

Maybank, who is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, offered the proposal as an amendment to the Defense Production Act, the measure that permits controls on wages, prices, rents and material allotments.

The controls bill is due to expire June 30 unless extended by Congress.

Maybank told reporters his committee, which recommended extending controls to March 1, had not seen the amendment. He would not predict its chances in Congress.

Shortly before Maybank made his proposal, the White House injected itself into the steel picture again.

John R. Steelman, acting mobilization chief, called leaders of the striking CIO Steelworkers' Union and of the industry to a conference tomorrow aimed at settling the issues.

It was the first concrete move by the White House since Monday when the Supreme Court struck down Truman's order seizing the mills.

DEATH OF TARGET SHOOTER IS PROBED

Minersville, Pa. (AP)—Police today investigated the death of a 14-year-old boy, killed while target shooting with two companions.

Donald Lipsett was wounded fatally yesterday while shooting at targets on the town dump. Coroner G. Ryland Lord said the bullet came from a rifle held by Alex Sekellick, 18.

Eisenhower Trails Senator In South Dakota by Mere Fraction

By The Associated Press

Dwight Eisenhower's political D-dly dawned amid psychological warfare—mounting returns from the South Dakota primary in which he trailed by a fraction of a percentage point.

Results from all but 244 of South Dakota's 1,947 precincts showed Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio getting 50.35 per cent and Eisenhower 49.65 per cent. Votes were: Taft 61,579, Eisenhower 60,734.

The total Republican vote there is expected to break a 1932 record of 128,000.

The South Dakota skirmish was for 14 Republican and eight Democratic presidential nominating votes. GOP nomination requires 604 and 14 seemed mighty few to be causing such a nationwide hoopla.

The reasons were psychological: South Dakota was the last head-on clash of Taft and Eisenhower, top-runners for the GOP nomination, before the July 7 national convention. The winner would get not only 14 votes but a springboard into the crucial convention floor battles.

INFANTRYMEN TAKE ACTION AT RED CAMPS

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN
Koje Island, Korea (AP)—American infantrymen and tanks today knocked down and burned Russian North Korean and Chinese flags in three Communist prisoner-of-war pens, then hauled out unruly prisoner leaders.

Not a shot was fired. The Reds submitted meekly although only a few hours earlier they had boasted they would "fight to the death."

The one-two punch at Communist prisoner disobedience destroyed all Red banners that flew over this once riot-torn island. Camp authorities expect more may appear tomorrow.

Seventeen anti-Communist prisoners, their hands bound, were rescued from one compound.

A few tear gas grenades were thrown as the American soldiers rushed into the barbed wire enclosures. Later they destroyed POW guard huts with flame-throwers.

Troops of the U. S. Second Division's 38th Regiment executed the operation. Their commander, Lt. Col. William F. Kernan, San Antonio, Tex., commented:

"We can go in any of those compounds anytime we want."

Brig. Gen. Hayden L. Boatner, Koje commander, personally directed two of the operations from a machinegun tower. It was another step in his campaign to bring order inside prisoner enclosures—and the fifth time tank-led troops had struck at POW disobedience.

APPROPRIATION BILLS KEEP SENATORS BUSY

Washington (AP)—The Senate worked 12 hours yesterday to pass two appropriation bills.

The long session ended last night with approval of a measure providing more than six billion dollars to operate about 30 federal agencies.

Earlier the Senate passed a bill authorizing the government to spend more than $1,300,000,000 in federal aid to states for modernizing and maintaining the highways during a two-year period starting July 1, 1953.

Included in the bill approved last night is money for the White House and President Truman's salary for his last 6½ months in office and the salary of his successor for his first 5½ months.

FAINT HOPE HELD FOR FIVE MINERS

Ironwood, Mich. (AP)—Hope faded today that the last of five iron miners trapped Monday in a cave-in at the Penokee mine would be found alive as were three fellow workers yesterday.

After the three miners walked unaided from the mine yesterday afternoon, rescue workers found the body of Jerma Olkonen, 38, of Ironwood, lying besides his machine.

Kinzua Graduates 10 Eighth Graders

Ten eighth grade students were graduated from the Kinzua school in ceremonies held at 8:00 p. m. Tuesday in the Methodist church, Lester Sheldon, board member, presenting diplomas to the following:

With Curtis Jenkins as valedictorian, each member of the class gave an essay on a self-chosen topic and special musical selections were given by Connie Jenkins and Ruth Ann Shick, piano solos; Ronald Shick, accordion solo; and vocals by the Warren Boys' Choir Quartet. The invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. DeForest Tennes.

Perfect attendance awards were presented to Jeanne Wilson and Rebecca Martin.

The church was beautifully decorated with gold and blue garden flowers, carrying out the class colors.

Program Ends for High School Students In the Distributive Education Course

The closing of Warren schools for the summer months also means that Warren High School seniors in the distributive education course will no longer be under the cooperative program in which Warren E. Miller, instructor, and the cooperating employer give salesmanship training in stores in the town.

The cooperative course in distributive education each succeeding year finds more and more students availing themselves of the practical experience it offers in the Warren stores. Started four years ago because the social contacts, the constant meeting and dealing with adults, and the development of ability to judge the quality of merchandise are deemed to have great value, the course enables both girls and boys to secure store experience under the supervision of Mr. Miller while the students are still attending school.

Certain requirements must be met by each student applying for admission. Class membership is limited to those in the twelfth grade, is determined by the number of cooperative jobs available, and cannot exceed 30 students.

The applicant must be healthy, free from physical defects, and neat in appearance. He must be at least 16 years of age, must pass an examination in arithmetic, must have completed at least the one year of social studies required for high school graduation, and should have a three average or above in grades ten and eleven. With these qualifications and satisfactory recommendations, the student has personal interviews with Mr. Miller and the cooperating employer before he is accepted in the class.

For the students in the cooperative course in distributive education the school day is divided into two parts. The students attend classes in the high school in the morning and work in retail establishments in the afternoon. Each student receives 15 hours of classroom instruction weekly and an average of at least 15 hours per week of on-the-job training. A maximum of 15 days is allowed for absences from school during peak seasons, as before Christmas and Easter, when the students may be excused from classes for extra time on the jobs.

A student may earn from $500 to $1,000 while he is taking the course. Three credits are given for work in school and one-half credits for the store laboratory work. A regular high school diploma is granted to all who satisfactorily complete the course.

The course of study in the classes at school includes three areas: (1) economics of distribution, converting elements of retailing; store organization, operation and management; business ethics, consumption; merchandising; pricing goods; merchandise control; employer-employee relations; local, state and federal regulations; and current trends in retailing; (2) job problems, exploring the employment preparation, store salesmanship, personality developments, business mathematics, business English, and individual job problems; and (3) merchandise information, covering such subjects as textiles, non-textiles, color, line, design, fashion, display, and advertising.

Although the distributive education course aims primarily to train retail salespeople, graduates of the course with acceptable scholastic standing may be admitted to Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges and to other accredited schools.

Every six weeks' period the co-operating employer is given a report blank, upon which he grades his employee in appearance, attitude, dependability, cooperation, knowledge of merchandise, selling efficiency, stockkeeping, handling of money, and aptitude.

Cooperating stores include Barnhart and Davis Co., C. Beckley's, Betty Lee's, Check Brothers Garage, Keystone Garage, Kresge Co., Lester Shoe Store, Metzger-Wright Co., G. C. Murphy Co., Sears Roebuck Co., Tasty Bakery, Watt Stationery, and Widman-Teah Drug Store.

SECRETARY'S DAY

The real boss of many a business is being honored today, reminds an Associated Press feature writer for this is Secretary's Day.

She is a rare and sought after person in many offices where there is a secretarial shortage—due in part to the short baby crop of the depressed thirties which means fewer women in their late teens and early twenties now, and in part to the lure of other jobs in industry and the competition from the greatly expanded government payroll.

The National Secretaries Association has already named "Miss Best Adjusted Secretary of 1952"—Miss Doris Dean, 22, of Pittsfield, Mass., a doctor's right-hand gal.

And it has also polled its 12,000 members around the country and came up with some statistics on what an average secretary looks like—how her physical attributes vary from section to section, and how they are shifting over the years. Some of it's fairly surprising.

Johns Hopkins has made a fairly odious comparison between the mental stature of women and men and reports that women can do more mental work than men in a given time and do it more accurately. To which the chairman of the National Secretaries Week Council, C. King Woodbridge, president of Dictaphone Corp., adds:

"Secretaries of today are considered more intelligent than those of 1902."

But the really fascinating statistics from that poll are those backed up by the research files of the Corset and Brassiere Association. According to these records:

West Coast secretaries have the widest hips—two inches wider than the national average. New York secretaries have the narrowest—but the most generous bust measurements. Texas secretaries, on average, are the longest waisted—about an inch and a half longer than the nation as a whole.

COURTEOUS BUT DETERMINED

East Side residents who are vitally interested in an endeavor to prevent the ultimate closing of South Street School taxed the capacity of the Penn Bowling Center when they met last night to form an organization to be known as "Friends of South Street School."

That they are just that — friends of South Street School — could not be doubted as the meeting progressed and they discussed the needs of their children. Continuance of the school, set in a closely populated area of Warren, is vitally important to the large crowd at last night's meeting. They are approaching their task in a courteous, quiet, but desperately determined manner.

As they talked, these sincere parents in no way condemned construction of the new school in Cone-wango avenue. They agree that it is needed, that it will be a wonderful improvement to the borough's school system. Their anxiety is over the fact that extremely young children must cross as many as a dozen dangerous intersections along a lengthy route they must take to other schools in the event the South Street building is ultimately closed.

"Friends of South Street School" elected directors, Tuesday night. These, in turn, will choose a delegation to mediate with the Board of School Directors in conferences which, it is hoped, will result in a complete survey of South Street School, and the decision that at least the younger children of that community may continue to attend classes there until they are better able to face traffic hazards.

"OLD GUARD" CROSSFIRE

When General Eisenhower landed in Washington from Paris, he was greeted by a 17-gun salute from the Third Infantry Division of the Army.

Somebody turned up the curious fact that the Third is familiarly known as the Old Guard. Now that the general is back in the country, the cannons of another Old Guard will be booming—but not in salute.

For the next five weeks, Ike will be the target for more shellfire than any general has ever had to endure on any battlefield. At the end of that time, he will either have the GOP nomination for the presidency or he will be retired to the relatively restful pursuits of private life. Whichever it is, he'll probably feel, he's earned it.

Battle of Bunko Hill

Here And There

These are busy days at the Oscar Lauger potato farms in and around Lottsville, Wrightsville and Panama, N. Y. Motorists passing his spacious farm lands between Lottsville and Wrightsville have observed that many of the 170 acres planted at last reports are just breaking through the ground, and if you slow down sufficiently to enjoy the landscape you'll notice the long rows of green plants. When we last talked to Oscar he still had eighty acres to plant, which would make a total of about 250 acres, to say nothing about the sixty acres he is planting in green peas. For the huge planting operation Lauger uses a two-row planter, with other special equipment to disc and plow the land. At top speed, we understand, Lauger and his crew of eight or ten helpers, plant ten or twelve acres a day.

Fifty years ago the Warren High School commencement exercises were held in the Library Theatre on the evening of June 11, 1902, and according to The Evening Times of the following day: "Fifty-two blushing and beautiful young women, and blushing and—well, handsome young men, were the quota of the Warren High School at the Commencement exercises held Wednesday evening at the theatre, which was filled from A to Z with fond parents, relatives, sweethearts, sweethearts, and friends, all anxious to see and applaud the young graduate as she or he entered the canoe and shoved off from the shore in the wide ocean of life and experience that lay stretched before them from the stage of the theatre last evening. On the program were the Rev. A. R. Taylor who gave the invocation; piano duet, Anna and Barbara Lesser; essay, Louis Hamilton; essay, Emily Gibson; violin solo, Marian Gerould; oration, Minor B. Stewart; essay, A. Lucille Partidge; essay, Agnes Wilson; oration, Harry S. Peterson; piano solo, Mary Yates; essay, Madeline Miller; essay, J. Blanche Van Ande; address, Hon. W. D. Industry Executive Forecast

End of Free Bargaining in '49

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Clarence B. Randall, 61-year-old president of Inland Steel Co., looks more like a college professor or a minister than the Harvard lawyer and iron master that he really is. Yet he is something of a teacher and a preacher, too.

Mr. Randall first leaped into national prominence as the new apostle and philosopher of American business during the 1949 steel strike over pensions. Appearing before a three-man presidential board named to investigate this dispute, Mr. Randall declared:

"When the President announced this board, it was an industrial revolution in America. Collective bargaining has been destroyed. It has been repeated by the President.

"And if this union strategy works this time, collective bargaining will never come back. The precedent here established, reflecting similar attempts made in 1946, would commit us to boards and government wage fixing forever."

How right Mr. Randall has been in that prediction thus far is shown by recent experience in the new steel wage case. In this dispute, Mr. Randall was radio and television spokesman for the entire steel industry in answering President Truman's fireside chat to the nation on seizure of the mills to prevent a strike.

CLARENCE RANDALL has been expounding and developing his ideas on management and labor relations over the past five years. "We know so little about the mass behavior of human beings," Mr. Randall confessed in a speech before Controllers' Institute two years ago. "Why will a fine American, who loves his family and goes to church . . . take two feet of gaspipe and lay it across another's head on the picket line?"

"The old school of thought in industry was that an increase in pay did it all. It doesn't. All of the great area of motivation as distinguished from pay is almost a closed book to us in industry."

Writing in the Atlantic Monthly, Mr. Randall had declared earlier: "Those who champion the right of free workers to strike must likewise champion the right of free men in management to say 'No' in the face of a strike."

And in a 1950 speech before Congress of American Industry he declared, "The thing which today . . . threatens freedom in industrial relations is the annoyance of the public with strikes."

THE idea of "Why don't we have judges to resolve these disputes?" Mr. Randall declares to be false thinking.

"We must either bargain freely as free men, or abandon the fight and let the state enter the relationship," he said.

If there had been free bargaining in the present steel dispute, without government interference, Mr. Randall believes that steel prices might have advanced about $5 or $6 a ton, had the unions accepted management's best offer of a 12½ cents-an-hour increase. But he does not believe that steel price rise could hold for long.

Stores in many steel towns, he says, have been hard hit. Families haven't been spending. They have been saving—partially through fear of another strike, like that of 1949, which shut down the industry for seven weeks. To Mr. Randall, these are signs that people don't want strikes, particularly those forced on them by union leaders seeking only to expand their power.

For management, however, Mr. Randall seems perfectly willing to take a strike in the steel industry to defeat the union shop demand. "This is the ultimate showdown," he declares.

It will interest many prospective bride couples to learn that the age at which Americans take their marriage vows—for the first time—is lower than it ever was before, the Department of Commerce said. For girls the median age at marriage is 20.4 years. For men, it's 22.6. Those figures apply only to first marriages, the department noted. A median is a middle figure. That is, there are as many ages below it as above it. The department said that in April, 1951, 2,100,000 divorced persons hadn't remarried, and there were 1,700,000 who had separated from husband or wife in these United States "because of marital discord." Those figures on separations, incidentally, represent the first official report on the subject.

LOCAL INTEREST IN LOUISVILLE CONCERT

There is considerable local interest in a special event staged recently in the Louisville, Ky., Servicemen's Center, when the Concert Band of the 31st Infantry Division was presented in a full concert program.

The Dixie Division Band, as it is known in many circles, is under the direction of Bandleader Daniel Miller, with Nicholas G. Geracimos of Warren as enlisted bandleader. The Louisville program featured such numbers as the Overture to the opera "Phedra" by Massenet and the First Suite in E Flat for Military Bands by Holst, together with many old familiar and modern selections.

Tip to Girl Graduate: Let Boss
Think Job's Important to You

TIP to the sweet girl graduate who will soon be starting out on her first job:
A business man says he has found that married women, and widows and divorcees with dependents make better saleswomen than single girls.
He figures that is because the single girl all too often regards her job as just something to be doing while she is looking around for a husband, and so does not take it as seriously as does the woman who knows she may be working for years.
So here's the tip: If you want to get ahead in your job, deliberately avoid giving anyone the idea that the job isn't really important to you.
Don't spend every free minute chatting with the other girls about where you went last night and where you're going tonight. Nothing makes a job seem less important than escaping from it every chance you get.
LET WHAT YOU DON'T KNOW BE A CHALLENGE
DON'T keep giving "I don't know" as an answer. On any new job there will be plenty that you don't know. But let that be a challenge to learn rather than an excuse for not doing a certain thing.
Don't give women a fishy stare and play up to the men. You are going to have to work with women and serve women—it will pay off to treat them with friendly courtesy.
Don't make a habit of being a few minutes late to work. The person who rushes in late every day starts each day at a disadvantage.
Don't act as though your job is beneath you. Give it dignity by doing it well.
Maybe you ARE just working until you can find a husband. But you don't need to handicap yourself by giving away that secret.
You may not find that husband. And even if you do, you still may want a job.

At Columbia Theatre

There is an old saying that, "Important coming events cast their shadows before them," and RKO Radio Pictures, heralding the coming of the thrilling "King Kong", believes in living up to tradition and on Thursday June 5th from 6:00 p. m. to 8:00 p. m. will introduce to the citizens of Warren one of their special advance agents in the person of "King Kong", which travels aboard his own 24 foot trailer truck, complete with lights, sound and ferocious movements.

Who is "King Kong"? What is he? He is the mighty gigantic gorilla which terrorized New York City, and who returns to the screen in a re-enactment of his exploits with Fay Wray, Robert Armstrong and Bruce Cabot as his human contrasts.

However, "King Kong" does not ride to public favor simply because of camera or production technique. While he definitely is a novel star, his chief claim to fame is that he is a "Thriller's thriller".
In other words, "Dracula", "Frankenstein's Monster", and other

Robert Merrill Will Headline Jaycee Concert Attractions in Coming Season

The Junior Chamber of Commerce music committee announced this morning contracts have been signed for the appearance in Warren next winter of one of the most popular concert attractions in the country. Robert Merrill, Metropolitan Opera Association baritone, will head the Jaycee Concert Series with a concert on January 13, 1953.

The handsome young star is not only a leading member of the Metropolitan Opera Company but is also a regular radio and television performer and records for RCA-Victor. His most recent albums are "Excerpts From Operatic Arias" by Robert Merrill and "Musical Comedy Songs" with Rose Stevens.

In addition, Merrill has been introduced to motion picture audiences this month with his performance in "Aaron Slick From Punkin Crick," a musical in which he is featured with Dinah Shore and Alan Young, and now showing at the Library Theater in Warren.

Merrill recently made the news headlines when he was discharged from the Metropolitan for going to Hollywood. A short time later, however, he was reengaged for the current season and only a few weeks ago he was in the news again with his marriage to the beautiful, new, young star, Roberta Peters, herself a member of the Met.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce music committee feels particularly proud to have signed Merrill inasmuch as he is in constant demand and his cross-country tours are always sold out and booked far in advance of the season. January 13 was the last available date for his tour.

Mr. Merrill's concert will be given in the Library Theater and will be open only to members of the Jaycee Concert Series. There are 1,000 members this year, double last year's membership, and all can be accommodated in the theater. Utilizing the theater for some of the concerts next year will be another first for the concert committee, which heretofore has presented all its concerts in the Woman's Club auditorium.

The first concert next season will be held sometime in October and will present the First Operatic Symphony. This new attraction has an orchestra of 20 musicians, a vocal quartet, and an outstanding conductor, Vladimir Bakaleinikoff, who is musical advisor to the Pittsburgh Symphony. Their program will present favorite operatic duets, quartets, and orchestra works of the great composers. The concert will be presented for one night in the Library Theater.

The third attraction for next winter will be a concert by Margaret Roggero, mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera and the San Francisco Opera. Miss Roggero was signed for the Met in 1950, after an engagement in Gian Carlo Menotti's "The Consul." She is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music and during the 1950 season at the Met sang more roles than any other female member on the roster. Miss Roggero will be presented in concert during March of 1953 at the Woman's Club auditorium, where she will sing two nights in order to be heard by the large membership.

The committee is still negotiating for the fourth attraction, which will be a two-piano team and should be engaged within the next few weeks. The coming season will be the fifth anniversary year for the Jaycee Concert Series and the committee is endeavoring to present a series that will mark the occasion as an outstanding one in the short history of the Junior Chamber music project.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE C. CHRISTENSEN

Susan Shamshoian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Shamshoian, Whitinsville, Mass., and George Christ Christensen, son of George C. Christensen, Youngsville, were united in marriage April 19 in a nuptial mass at St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, Camp Lejeune, N. C. Commander Godfrey Reilly officiating.

Wearing a gown of white nylon tulle with full skirt sweeping into a short train, the bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Fred Wilson. White velvet flowers were embroidered on sleeves and skirt of her gown, which had a Peter Pan neckline and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil of illusion was gathered to a Juliet cap of Chantilly lace and pearls and her white prayerbook was covered with white roses and lilies of the valley streamers. Attendants were Josephine De George as maid of honor and Joseph McGinty as best man.

The bride, graduate of Northridge High School, attended Our Lady of the Elms College and is a graduate of Providence Hospital School of Nursing. At present she is a lieutenant junior grade in the Navy Nurse Corps, stationed at the Naval Hospital at Camp Lejeune.

Mr. Christensen was graduated from Youngsville High School and is a laboratory technician at the Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, N. C.

WSWS MEETING

All members and friends of the WSWS of First Evangelical United Brethren church are urged to be in attendance for the regular meeting at 7:45 p. m. Thursday in the church parlors. This will be the last meeting of the group prior to the Branch convention at Findley Lake, N. Y., and a large turnout is hoped for.

Reddecliffs' 25th Anniversary Is Occasion for Tea

On Sunday afternoon, June 1, Mrs. Carl Harrison entertained with a beautifully appointed tea which honored Mr. and Mrs. John Reddecliff, who were observing their 25th wedding anniversary.

The Reddecliff home in North Warren was attractively decorated with bouquets of white gladioli, sweet peas, candytuft and feverfew, with punch and cake served at a dining table centered with a three-tiered wedding cake in white with silver trim.

Mr. and Mrs. Reddecliff were remembered with many lovely gifts of silver.

Mr. Reddecliff is a member of the Warren High School faculty and, with his wife, is well known throughout the community. They have two children, Jack, who is with the armed services in Alaska, and Dick, who is a member of this year's graduating class of the local high school.

BPW Members Planning 14th Birthday Party

Warren Business and Professional Women's Club members are looking forward to their dinner-meeting at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, June 10, when the organization will be celebrating its 14th birthday anniversary.

The party will be held in the YWCA activities building and members will be privileged to invite guests, making their reservations no later than Friday evening. Those unable to be present must cancel their standing dinner reservations by the same deadline. Both calls may be made to Ellen Courtney, 1315-R.

In connection with this birthday meeting, the club treasurer reminds that all who have not paid dues should bring them at this time.

PICTURE NEWS

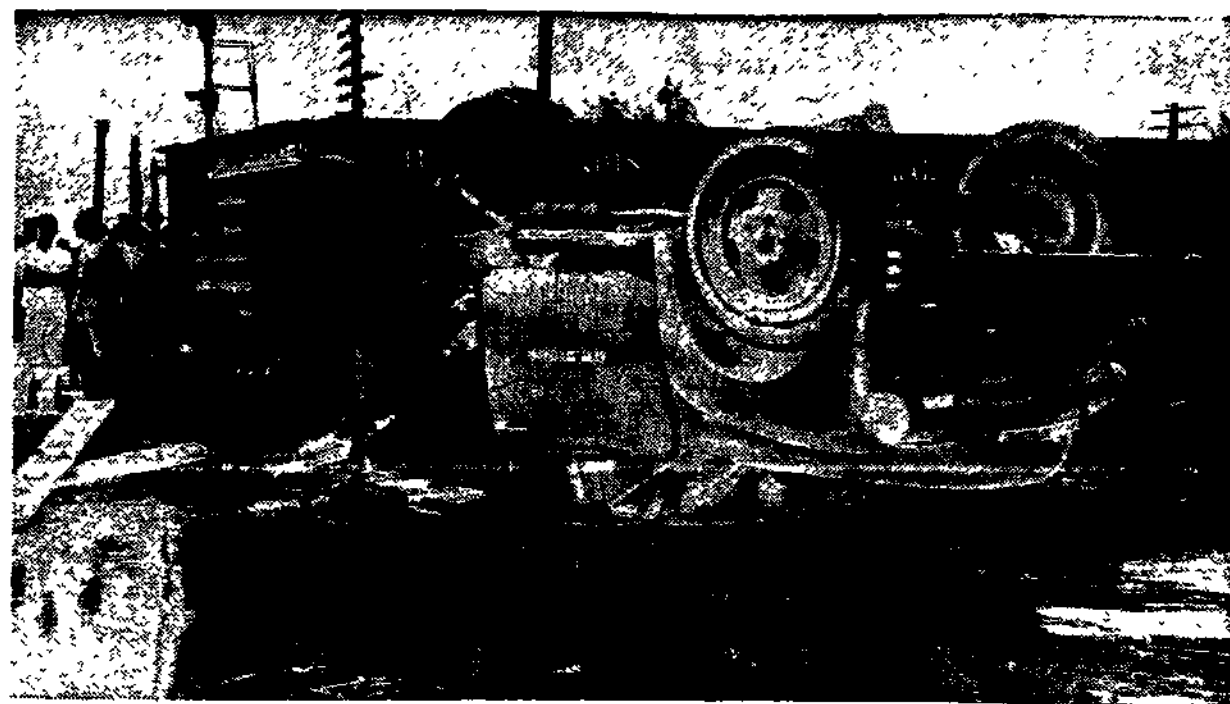

AROUND THE WORLD

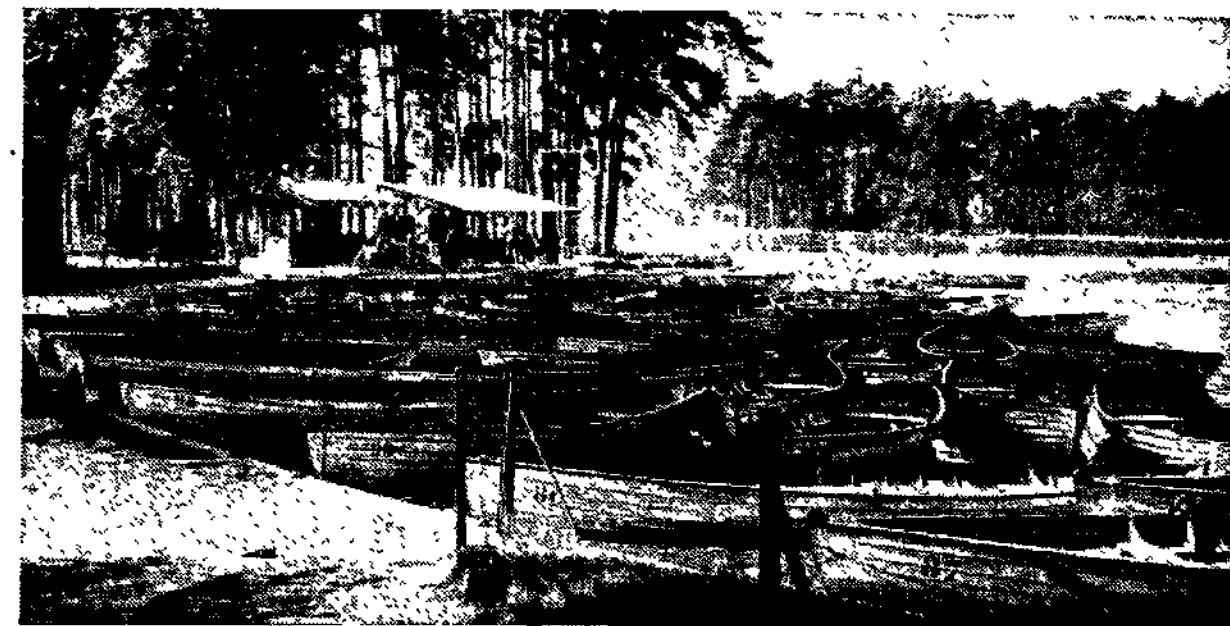

IT'S JUST FINE NOW—Since her father found the week-old fawn near Bernardsville, N. J., Dawn Duncan, 10, has been taking care of it. But despite her appeal to Gov. Alfred Driscoll, after learning it was against the law to keep a wild deer, Dawn is going to have to give up her pet which might become vicious in a year or so.

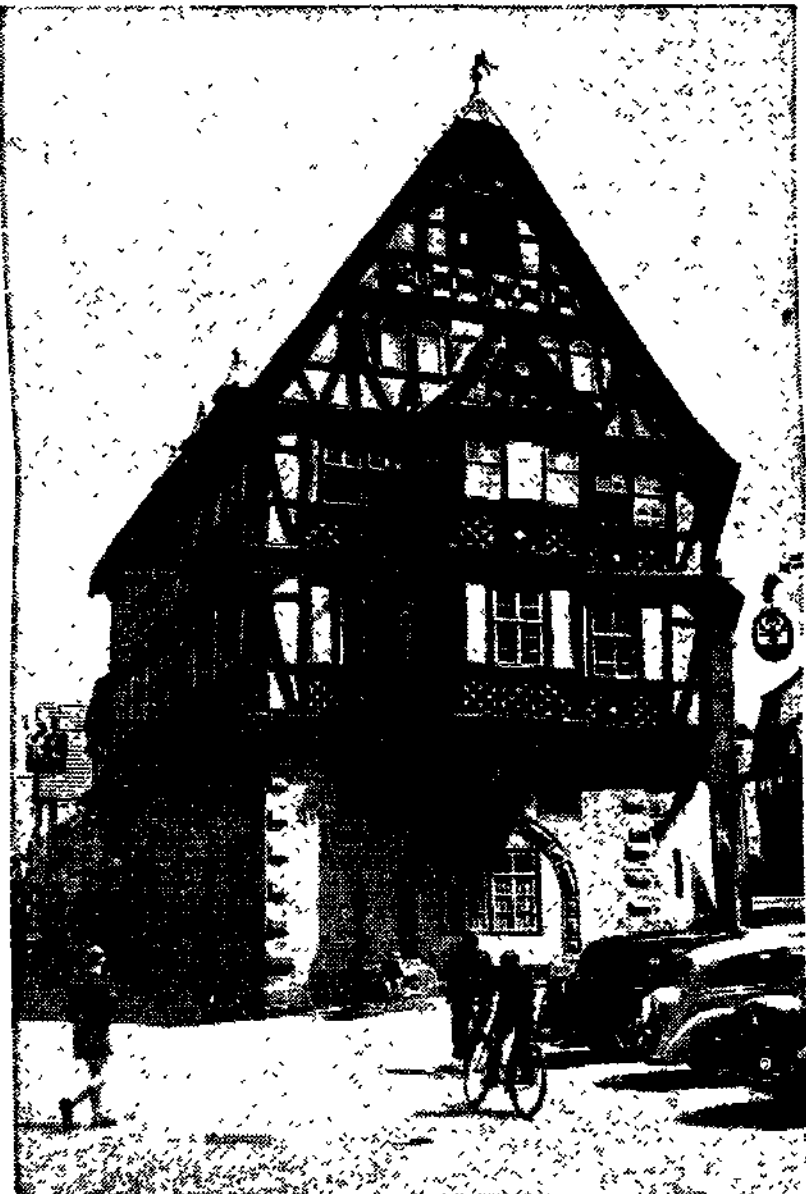

THEY SHARE THE TITLE—As joint winners of the National Press Photographers' Association annual beauty contest, twins Jean and June Jackson, of Dallas, Tex., hold their title for all the world to see in Galveston. The unique decision reflects considerable wisdom on the part of the judges who so obviously believe that two heads are better than one.

TOPSY TURVY—A smashed-up truck lies overturned in a pool of road oil which was being loaded onto it, after being struck by two gondolas, in rear, which went on a rampage when a coupling failed to hold at Mankata, Minn. The two rail cars were filled with rock. The truck driver was hospitalized with a broken arm and a possible concussion.

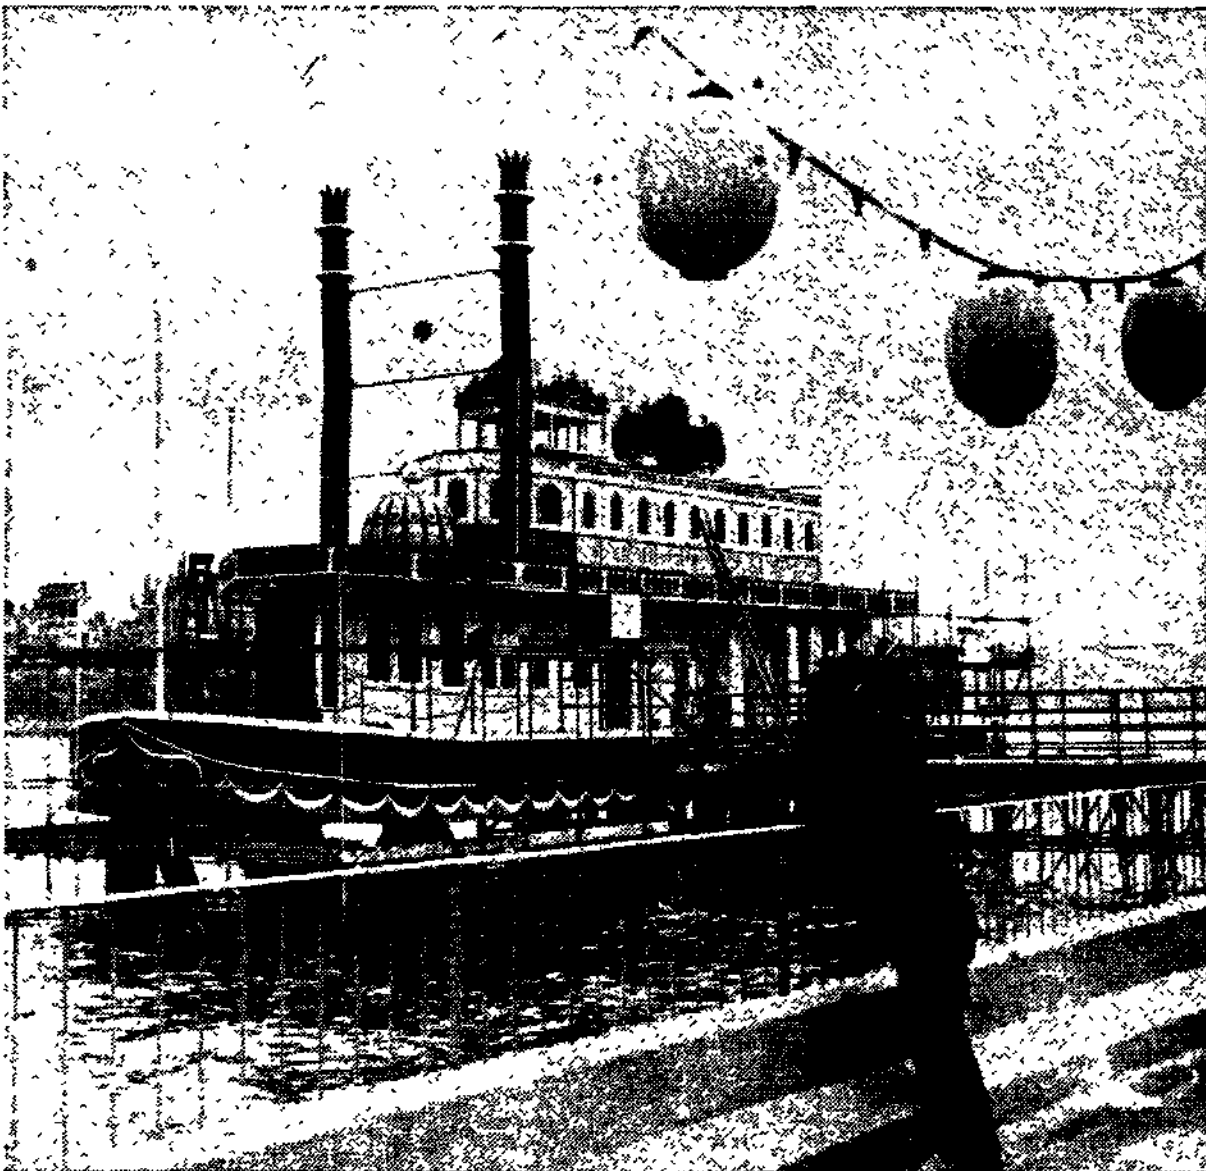

NOT ALWAYS LIKE THIS—Early on a weekday, this is what the boat dock at Paris' Bois de Boulogne Lake looks like. There's no one around now, but when evening comes, the crowds come with it and the lake splashes to life with all kinds of aquatic activity.

ALWAYS THE SAME—An inn in Miltenberg, Germany, is not only that country's oldest hotel but it still bears the same timbers and framework that were used in the building in the 16th Century. Originally a 12th-Century six-story building, the inn got its present form when renovated in 1590. Royalty from all of Europe has been entertained in the historic inn.

COPTER RESCUES—A British team is carrying out an experimental rescue near London to develop techniques learned in the Korean war. A rescuer is lowered in a "bosun's chair" to secure a webbing loop under the rescued man, before they're hoisted up to safety. American and British troops have used helicopters with great success.

IT LOOKS LIKE IT—Ready for the Summer season, this realistic replica of a showboat has been constructed at Battersea Pleasure Gardens in London, England. The showboat will house a press-button marine museum especially designed to amuse children. Mayor C. J. Menzel, of Hannibal, Mo., will make a trans-Atlantic phone call for the opening.

THEY'LL NEED MORE COPS—As her Dalmatian shows signs of breaking the law in Chicago, dancer Sheilah Hackett is having an anxious moment, especially with policeman William Sodini standing nearby. He was reminding her that the city fathers have a new law prohibiting the natural attachment dogs have for trees.

SIAMESE TWINS—Seven-month-old Siamese twins Ronnie, right, and Donnie Gaylon are good physical specimens. They also enjoy a well-cared-for life with lots of attention from the nurses, at a hospital in Dayton, O., where they have been since birth. Doctors plan to separate the boys, joined at the abdomen, after they have reached two years of age.

COMING EVENTS—Although Federal and state agencies have predicted that the wheat prospects are good this year in Kansas, five-year-old Dale Stewart has only to look at the eye-high crop on his father's farm, near Parsons, to know the predictions are true. The crop's height tells the good story.

HIS CAPTIVE—Jimmy Doyle, five, is showing his fishy treasure to his 21-month-old sister, Lindsey, in London, England. It's a minnow he caught in a pond in a city park and that jam jar came in mighty handy to hold the fish and give a good view at the same time.

Koje's Commander Faces Tough and Ticklish Job

Picture below is the UN's restive prisoner-of-war camp on Kojima Island and its new commander, Brig.-Gen. Haydon L. Boatner. A former front-line commander who fought at Heartbreak Ridge, Boatner has the unenviable job of maintaining order among the rabid leaders who seized former camp commander Brig.-Gen. Francis T. Dodd and held him hostage for 78 hours, extracted damaging concessions from Brig.-Gen. Charles Colson in exchange for Dodd's release and more recently added a sit-down strike to their efforts to block the prisoner-of-war issue at the Panmunjom truce talks.

A powderkeg nestled among softly-rolling hills is the UN prisoner camp on Kojima Island, off South Korea's southeast coast. In the compounds pictured above are imprisoned 70,000 Red soldiers and civilian internees who have asked that they be returned to the Reds. The compounds' inmates are ruled by their own popularly-elected leaders, who are, in turn, responsible to...

UN Prison Commander Brig.-Gen. Haydon Boatner. He replaced Brig.-Gen. F. T. Dodd, who had been held by POW's.

To strengthen his promise that Kojima's "hysterical, neurotic prisoners" will be kept in line, Boatner ordered the crack 157th Airborne Regiment to police the camp. Above, G.I.'s of the 157th increase the barbed wire fences around the compounds.

Quelling further riots on Kojima, where POW's have openly flouted UN authority with illegal posters like one above, will be a tough and ticklish job, warn authorities, for blood spilled in the compounds would serve as fresh ink for Red propaganda pama.

Ian Old-Fashioned Barbecue or Personnel of Thirty Stores

Barbecued beef and ham, together with all traditional trimmings, will highlight the 10-county picnic of State Liquor Store employees, to be held at Hemlock Ridge, near St. Marys on Route 1, on Sunday, July 27. Employees from thirty stores in the following counties will take part in this second annual affair: McKean, Warren, Potter, Elk, Jefferson, Clearfield, Centre, Cameron, Clarion and Forest. In addition, guests will be sent from other counties, and some of the Harrisburg departments of the system.

Besides the general program, there will be entertainment, with details still being arranged by the committee in charge. The picnic will be an all-day affair.

General chairman is Joseph Bevacqua, Johnsonburg manager. Secretary of the committee is Dick Conway, St. Marys, and treasurer is Gene Bauer, also of St. Marys. The food and entertainment committee includes A. J. "Moon" Scallise, of Warren; Everett Samuelsen, of Bradford; and Dave McLafferty, of Port Allegany. L. N. Schuler, of Youngsville, is in charge of publicity.

Grove City College Will Graduate 232 Seniors This Week

Grove City, Pa., June 4—Commencement week activities at Grove City College will be climaxed this Saturday, June 7, when degrees will be conferred upon 232 seniors. The baccalaureate service will be held on Friday evening, June 6, at 7:30 p. m., EDT, in the Samuel P. Harbison Memorial Chapel with the Reverend John Docherty, D. D., Minister of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, Washington, D. C., preaching the sermon. The Reverend Docherty has recently arrived in this country from his native Scotland after a long period of service there in the Presbyterian Church. He replaced Peter Marshall, famed Chaplain of the United States Senate and pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church in Washington, D. C.

On Saturday, June 7, at 10:30 a. m., EDT, Chancellor Rufus H. Fitzgerald, Chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh, will deliver the commencement address to the senior class assembled in the stadium. Chancellor Fitzgerald has had a long and distinguished career as an educator and has been very active in civic and religious affairs. He received his Bachelor's Degree at Guilford College and his Master's Degree at the University of Tennessee. After receiving his L.L.D. from the University of Pennsylvania, he became associated with Iowa State University and served as Head of the Department of Fine Arts for many years. In 1935 he was appointed Provost of the University of Pittsburgh and was moved to the post of Vice Chancellor in 1942. He has served as Chancellor at the University since 1945.

Another climax of the commencement program will be the conferring of the honorary degrees. The Reverend Leo L. Tait, The Reverend D. Lester Say, and The Reverend Roy B. Connor, Jr., will receive the honorary degree Doctor of Divinity. Mr. Dal W. Houk and Mr. John T. Connell will receive the honorary degree Doctor of Laws.

Greetings to those assembled and tributes to Mr. Eaton were given by Hon. Allison D. Wade, president judge, representing the Warren County Bar Association; Melvin G. FOREST FLOOR GREEN, FIRE HAZARD FEARED

Forestry officials are keeping their fingers crossed as the intermittent rains continue and cause a constant "greening over" of the forest floor, but they say that while the fire hazard is temporarily reduced, a dry spell may be in the offing.

In the event that rain holds off for some days, the heavy forest floor covering will dry out rapidly and present a constant hazard until more rain comes.

The last forest fire was on Memorial Day, a small railroad blaze near Hemlock.

GAS PRICE JUMPS NEAR PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia (P)—Three major oil companies have boosted wholesale prices of gasoline in the metropolitan Philadelphia area by seven-tenths of a cent per gallon in the last two days.

HONOR MISS FINLEY AT LUNCHEON TODAY

Miss Phoebe Finley, who is retiring from the public school system after 35 years of teaching history in Warren High School, was honored guest at noon today for a luncheon and gift presentation held at the high school by her fellow-instructors and members of the Warren Borough Teachers' Association.

Township Firemen Voice Appreciation

In appreciation for the support received in their second annual parade Saturday, the following has been submitted for publication by Frank Valone on behalf of the Pleasant Township Firemen:

"We, the members of the Pleasant Township Volunteer Fire Department, wish to thank each and every one who helped in any way to make our second annual parade such a wonderful success.

"Through the splendid cooperation of the Times-Mirror, WNAE, our judges, and all the others too numerous to mention, our second annual parade was even better than our first parade.

"We are happy to report that due to the efficient way the traffic was handled by the state, borough and fire police, there were no accidents and it wasn't long before the roads were cleared.

"Our deepest appreciation to the participants and the crowd of people who turned out to view them."

"Pleasant Township Volunteer Dept.

Sheffield Rotary Has 100% Meeting

Sheffield—Rotarians had a 100 per cent attendance for their regular luncheon-meeting at The Sweet Shoppe, President Roy Carlson welcoming four guests: Chris Yutze, Sheffield; Walter Lepsch of Rochester, N. Y., guest of John Baynes; Thomas Jensen of Erie, guest of Archie Means, and Allen Seilly, Warren Rotary member.

Otto Mayer spoke on a trip he recently made through Mexico, highlighting some of his experiences, and talking about living conditions among the neighbors across the border.

LOG LOAD CRASHES, TWO LUMBERMEN DIE

Lock Haven (P)—Two lumbermen were killed last night when their truck loaded with logs apparently got out of control and crashed into a tree as it was going down a mountainside 10 miles northwest of here.

Dora Kissel, Clinton County coroner, identified the victims as David Walizer, 21, of Loganton, R. D. 1, the driver, and Charles Munim, 45, of Richfield, near Sunbury.

State police said the men were driving down a steep grade on Beech Creek Mountain when the logs apparently shifted and caused the truck to go out of control. The bodies of the pair were found lying clear of the demolished truck.

PINE GROVE STUDENT KILLED BY BASEBALL

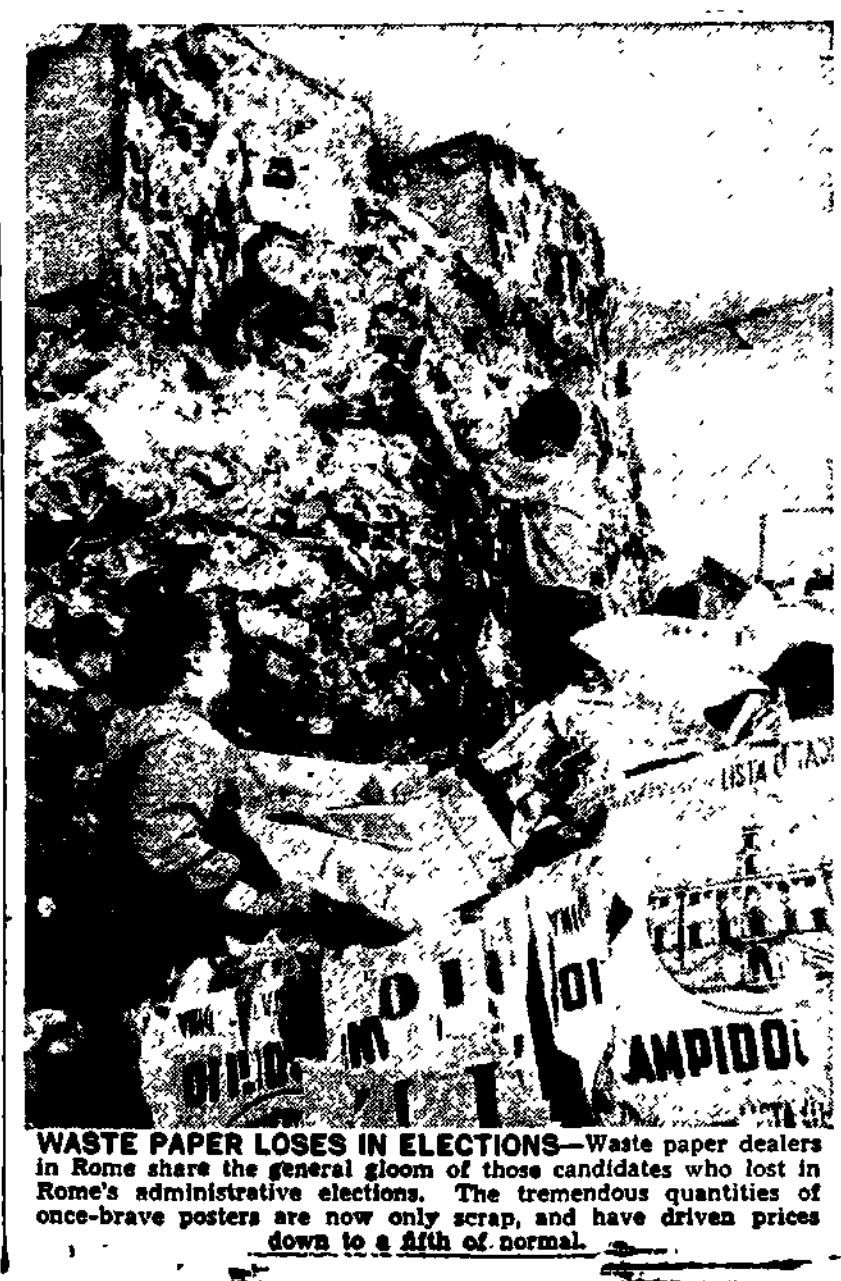

Pine Grove (P)—A baseball thrown by a schoolmate killed 11-year-old Robert Rittenbaugh when the ball slammed into Rittenbaugh's chest above the heart during a noon recess.

Deputy Coroner Charles Peach of Lehigh County said Rittenbaugh, of nearby Ravine, was chasing a softball yesterday when he ran into the path of a throw from Luther Zimmerman, 14, to a teammate in a baseball game.

Peach issued a verdict of accidental death.

Before invention of the reaper, two and one-half hours were required to harvest each bushel of wheat, a chore now taking 10 minutes.

Condors are not only the largest birds of prey, but also the largest land birds of flight.

WASTE PAPER LOSES IN ELECTIONS—Waste paper dealers in Rome share the general gloom of those candidates who lost in Rome's administrative elections. The tremendous quantities of once-brave posters are now only scrap, and have driven prices down to a fifth of normal.

NAVAL LAB AT STATE COLLEGE TO EXPAND

Washington (P)—Rep. James Van Zandt (R-Pa.) has cleared the way for expansion of the Naval Ordnance Research Laboratory at the Pennsylvania State College.

The House Armed Services Committee yesterday approved $918,000 for the Penn State project after Van Zandt, a member of the committee, offered an amendment to provide the money, and the amendment was adopted. The money had been requested by the Navy but the Budget Bureau had refused to approve it.

Van Zandt told newsmen the funds will make possible the completion of the second floor of the laboratory and the addition of a third floor. The work will take 12 months, he said.

The Congressman from Altoona, Pa., said the additions are necessary because the Navy is using one of the college buildings and the contract for use of that building expires in 1954.

POTATO VIOLATORS HELD UNDER BAIL

Philadelphia (P)—Two men accused of selling potatoes at above ceiling prices were held for $500 bail while similar charges against two others were dismissed.

John Rupert, 47, of Pottstown, Pa., and Sam Pontino, 32, of Bridgeport, Pa., were arrested on May 30 for selling potatoes off a truck van at Booths Corner, Bethel township, near Chester, Pa. They charged from $9.50 to $10.50 per hundred pounds, according to Office of Price Stabilization officials.

U. S. Commissioner Henry P. Carr yesterday discharged James DeWitt, 18, Bridgeport, and Russell Mimici, 19, of Norristown because of their age and because police said they had served only as laborers on the truck.

JURY GIVES $21,000 FOR DEATH ON TRACKS

Pottsville (P)—A Shenandoah, Pa., man received a $21,000 award from a Schuylkill County court jury in a suit brought against the Pennsylvania Railroad seeking damages in the 1948 death of his son.

The verdict was returned yesterday in favor of Robert Chevalia, whose son, Lawrence, was killed by a PRR train operating on the Lehigh Valley Railroad's tracks near Shenandoah June 6, 1948.

Chevalia contended that the train crew did not signal properly when it spotted the boy walking along the tracks.

LIST 140 HOUSING UNITS FOR STATE

Harrisburg (P)—Another 140 housing units were listed for construction today under the state's 15 million dollar housing subsidy program, bringing the total to 3,706.

The State Planning Board, directing the program, said new projects have been approved for Coatesville and Waynesboro.

Bids for the newest projects are expected to be let in the near future.

The board has allocated $220,000 for a 60-unit project at Coatesville, and $296,000 for 80 units at Waynesboro.

REPORT CARDS WILL BE GIVEN THURSDAY

Tuesday was the last day for regular class periods and students enjoyed a holiday today while teachers prepared their report cards.

Bloodmobile Cargo Intact As Truck Skids Off Road at Irvine

ITS VALUABLE CARGO UNDAMAGED, the Red Cross Bloodmobile, shown above, was towed to Warren for repairs after it skidded off Route 6 late last night and was badly damaged. Its two occupants, hospitalized here for the night, went on to Buffalo late this morning.

A Red Cross panel truck, loaded with bottles of blood collected in Titusville yesterday, missed the curve on Route 6 at Irvine about 11:30 p. m. while headed toward Warren en route to Buffalo, took out some guard rails and a telephone pole, and came to rest upside down in the deep hole alongside the road at that point. Neither the driver of the truck nor his passenger was seriously injured, and not a single bottle of blood was broken, although the truck was extensively damaged, state police said.

Both men were taken to Warren General Hospital by the Young ambulance where their condition is pronounced good this morning, and they were discharged today.

Hot Stove League to Officially Open on June 9

Uniforms Are Ready, Handlers May Get Them from District Chairmen; 51 Teams Will Play

Monday, June 9, was officially set as the opening date of the Hot Stove League, when committee members met in the Trinity Memorial Parish House last night. With five leagues participating, the Bantams will play their games on Monday, Midgets on Wednesday and Friday, Cadets on Wednesday and Friday, Intermediates on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and the Juniors on Tuesday and Thursday.

The schedule will undoubtedly be ready for release by tomorrow, after Bob Moorhead and his committee meet at 9 o'clock this evening.

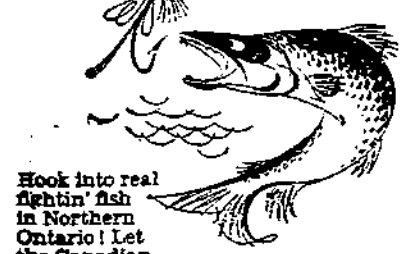

Fifty-one teams now compose the league, including 11 Bantam, 15 Midget, nine Cadet, eight Intermediate, and eight Junior.

It was learned at last night's session that the uniforms are now ready for distribution and can be picked up by team handlers from the district chairmen. The handlers are also requested to check the small sized uniforms and inform the equipment committee of any that need replacing. Nick Creola is in charge of the West Division and Steve Massa the East, and should also be contacted for bats, balls and score sheets.

Incidentally managers should note that three scoresheets are to be filled out for each game and turned into the Times-Mirror sports department, WNAE and the Warren News.

The committee was also informed, last night, that 50 new uniforms will replace the small ones now in use and that the Bantam shirts and caps have been ordered. A definite conclusion was also drawn on what teams will be sponsored in Youngville this season and a complete list of players is to be turned in next week. The near-by community will have only one team in the Junior, Cadet and Intermediate leagues.

On the heels of Ron Neccia's record strikeout feat, Bill Bell, above, turned in two consecutive no-hitters. Question at Camp Is Why Ezzard Is Favored as Winner Atlantic City, N. J. (AP)—One of the biggest mysteries in this fight training camp center, outside of how fine Ezzard Charles' mustache will be trimmed, is why the ex-champ from Cincinnati is such a big favorite to dethrone Jersey Joe Walcott in Philadelphia tomorrow night.

Not-so-lean Ezzard was rated a 2 to 1 to 3 to 1 choice, depending on where the betters were doing their shopping to become the first former heavyweight king in history to regain the prized crown.

Although a majority of the visiting fight writers are picking the 30-year-old challenger they openly admit they are doing it with fingers crossed. No one apparently has any firm conviction that Ezzard is going to win because of the heavier power in 38-year-old Jersey Joe's fists. Most of the critics figure this should be a pick 'em fight.

They know that the ancient gladiator from Camden is apt to put Charles away with one punch. But they are going for Charles because they feel Joe is liable to come apart just like Joe Louis did against Charles and Rocky Marciano. After all, how long can Jersey Joe go?

Active Season Of Baseball Promised Wildcat Park Fans

Ludlow—Formally opened for the summer season on Memorial Day, Wildcat Park will be the scene of regular baseball games each Sunday from now on. The local American Legion will sponsor the games, under the management of George R. Anderson.

Lester McArthur will act as booking manager; Ward Anderson as ticket manager; Vernon Swanson and Jack Andrews as advertising chairman; Stanley Carlson as concessions chairman, assisted by a committee.

Pitchers announced for the team this summer are Phil Swanson of Ludlow, Keith Vestling and Dean Whittaker, Warren; Eddie Fragale, Kane.

An attendance prize will be awarded each Sunday and several grand awards will be given when the season concludes on Labor Day.

Wellsville Tounced By Falcons, 11 to 1

By The Associated Press

Heavy hitting accounted for high scoring games in the Class D Pony Baseball League last night and the hits included eight home runs.

The most runs were chalked up at Olean where the Yankees edged Bradford's Phillies, 11 to 9.

Jamestown tounced Wellsville, 11 at 1, as the Falcons pounded out 12 hits.

Batavia's Clippers had 13 hits to 11 for Corning as they beat the Athletics, 10 to 4. Second-place Hamilton, battling with Hornell for the league lead, dropped the Dodgers, 8 to 1.

Phi Beta Golfer New Queen of the Links

Great Neck, N. Y. (AP)—Twenty-four-year-old Betsy Rawls, a Phi Beta Kappa with an educated swing, is the new queen of women's professional golf, but she finds it hard to shake the shadow of "The Babe."

"The Babe (Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias) is still the best," the Austin, Tex., miss said yesterday after adding the rich Transcontinental Championship to her National Open crown. "When the Babe's right, nobody can touch her."

Miss Rawls took over the undisputed No. 1 place in the ladies' ranks with her record-shattering triumph in the cross-country event.

Russia's Power In Olympics Pondered By All Contenders

Helinski, Finland (AP)—Russia will participate in the Olympic games for the first time in four decades this year and Western observers today were wondering just how powerful the Soviet delegation will shape up.

Of one thing they were certain: the Russians are sure to make at least a respectable showing or they would not be sending a team of 300 athletes here for the big international sports carnival from July 19 to Aug. 3.

For almost a year, the Russians remained mute on the question of their participation in the games although they are members of most of the international sports federations to which a nation must belong to be eligible. But yesterday they ended all speculation by announcing they would try for every title except field hockey.

The announcement came as no great surprise. The Russians have been training teams for some months in several sports, and the newspapers of Moscow and other large cities have been calling for the athletes to exert extra efforts for the coming international competitions.

Through The Wind Tunnel

Because of Commencement tonight, the Sunset League game between the Elks and Youngville has been postponed until some time next week.

Any local softball teams interested in scheduling a game with the Nickel Plate Softball team in Conneaut, O., should contact Fee Arcato, manager, at 736 Broad street, in Conneaut.

When over 200 Warren High students attended the prom last week they had the chance to see how the polka was done the "Nanticoke way."

While attending the boys' work committee meeting at the "Y" last evening, we saw some silent films of "Y" activities about 20 years ago. Some of those slim figures sure have made a change in the last two decades.

Also included in the film were shots of the "Y" Camp at Brocton, N. Y. It is nothing like the present camp site on Lake Erie now used by the local association.

It will be a big day in the lives of 218 Warren High School seniors tonight when they walk the aisle of the Presbyterian Church to the orchestra's recessional. Those good old days in WHS will be gone forever, but pleasant memories of the wonderful times had by all will not soon be forgotten.

BOWLING PRIZES

Thad Lawson at the Arcade Alley announces the following prize winners for high games during the season: men—Joe Musante, 278, a plaque; Andy Randinelli, 258; Louis Bonace, 257; Frank Stec, 256; Tony Fazio, 255; and Ernie Wilson, 255, all received lighters; ladies—Gen Phillips, 214; Alpha Shira, 210; Millie Burman, 208; Rose Halle, 207, all received lighters; and Marilyn Dietch, 205, a bracelet.

Bobo Newsom of the Washington Senators had seven opening day assignments in his American League career. He won three and lost four.

Favor Saxton Over Rawlings Tonight

Chicago (AP)—A ten-pound weight edge plus an undefeated record in his last 28 fights made New York's Johnny Saxton the favorite in a 10-round boxing bout tonight with Luther Rawlings of Chicago.

Saxton, 22, and fourth-ranking welterweight, is expected to weigh about 147, with Rawlings, foremost lightweight contender, coming in at 137. The 23-year-old Rawlings will have a three inch height advantage.

The Chicago Stadium match will be televised nationally at 9 p. m. EST.

Biggest Trade in History of Baseball Confuses Sport Fans As They Ponder Implications

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

They're still trying to figure out which team got the better of yesterday's gigantic nine-player swap between the Detroit Tigers and Boston Red Sox.

Initial returns presented no clue as to the answer as the fans buzzed with excitement over what may be the biggest single trade in the history of baseball.

Only hours after the trade, former Tigers Hoot Evers and Johnny Igoe appeared in Boston uniforms against the Cleveland Indians.

About the same time, ex-Red Sox Walter Dropo and Don Lenhardt took their places in the Detroit lineup against the Philadelphia Athletics.

None of the four distinguished himself in any way as the Indians shut out the revamped Red Sox, 6-0, while the Athletics humbled the made-over Tigers, 3-1.

George Kell failed to arrive in time to take over the third base duties with the Red Sox. Veteran pitcher Dizzy Trout, fourth Tiger in the deal, was on hand but was not used.

In addition to Dropo and Lenhardt, the Bengals acquired shortstop Johnny Pesky, third baseman Fred Hatfield and pitcher Bill Wight. None saw action last night.

Brooklyn retained its one-game margin over the New York Giants in the National League, defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-4. The Giants earlier shelved the third place Chicago Cubs, 17-4.

Brilliant relief pitching by ageless Satchel Paige brought a 3-2 victory for the St. Louis Browns over the Washington Senators.

Paige yielded four hits in five and two-thirds innings and then singled in the winning run in the 17th.

Another pitcher turned hitter when righthander Johnny Sain, in a 13th inning hitting role, smashed a single that gave the New York Yankees a 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

In other games Cincinnati beat the Phillies, 2-1, and the Braves licked the Cards, 3-2.

The Nice Long Vacation

By William Neubauer

Chapter 15

AWARE of Leslie Poppleton's panicky flight, Jane was a very happy girl for the remainder of that week. Now the good humor, the roguish sense of fun, the happy-go-lucky approach to life which had made her such a favorite with so many men overseas made her a favorite at Camp Joy.

There were so many requests for dates that Evelyn Moore soon found herself functioning as the girls' social secretary. But she separated the wheat from the chaff with a right good will. Aware, as Jane wasn't aware, that this popularity was making a new girl of her, she took great satisfaction in seeing to it that every moment of the girl's free time was occupied. With the result that when Jane finally got around to answering the several letters she had received from Ruthie Taylor and Mrs. Goldsborough she had much to relate, and very little of it sad.

The letters finished, she put on a full, flowered cotton skirt, an off-the-shoulder white blouse, did her hair up in a kerchief and went down to the barracks-like building which housed the camp post office as well as the mess hall for Division A. And it was there that Ralph Jowett finally caught up with her. "Miss Bancroft!" He smiled as she turned around. "About time I managed to get a word with you. Evelyn Moore told me every night of the week? May not be especially handsome, but I am rich."

It was an original approach, to say the least. It pleased her sense of humor, and she smiled back at him. "Evelyn, you see, wants me to go out only with men she thinks are good for me. I'm a clinical case, you see. I'm being helped, much against my will, but being helped is the same." She studied his pale face, his rather scrawny physique. "I don't remember having seen you down at the pool, Mr. Jowett. I don't wish to sound rude, but you look as though some sunshine and exercise would do you a great deal of good."

He fell into step beside her as she walked slowly toward the parade grounds. She looked at her watch, then met his brown eyes. "I didn't eat. I was busy writing some long overdue letters. Suppose you repeat your invitation to dinner, and if you don't mind this outfit?"

"It is the most glamorous outfit in the world!" he cried, and there was in his manner a quality that told her he wasn't simply being gallant.

He drove quickly into Tuttleton, parking the car before a restaurant on Main Street. Since she had been there many times since the afternoon of the swimming meet, the proprietor came to the door eager to greet her most cordially. He led her back to the table she had shared with Andy and so many others in the days which had elapsed since she had scored her stunning triumph. "The roast beef," he said, "is very good this evening, Miss Bancroft. Rare, exactly as you like it."

Roast beef it was, with Ralph Jowett smiling as the man went away with their order. "Should I be jealous, I wonder? Should I resent the fact that many others have preceded me? Or should I simply be quietly happy because I am dining with you at last?"

"You have a nice sense of humor, haven't you?"

He inclined his head solemnly, his brown eyes twinkling. "I agree with you, of course. Sometimes, it is my considered opinion, I am the wittiest man alive. And of course the most grateful."

"You talk too much," she said with an attempt at a laugh. "You'll turn my head if you don't watch out, and then I'll order the five-dollar dinner."

He chuckled. He found himself thoroughly enjoying the evening. He had doubted that he would.

He waved his arm grandiloquently. Order the ten-dollar menu. You see, I am grateful, very grateful. From now on I shall snub Evelyn Moore with a right good will."

The waiter came to their table and cleared away the appetizer dishes and brought them their entrée. Jane, looking at the meat, squealed in delight. "Isn't this

Chapter 16

FRIGHTENED, on the verge of hysterical tears, Leslie looked across the room at her husband and cried angrily. "Why are you so cruel to me, George? If you want to dispose of me, why don't you simply say so and have done with it? Why must you torment me this way?"

George, who had been standing there feeling sorry for her, was astonished, to say the least. But he had perception now: that was one of the things his experience as a soldier had given him. Crossing the room in several quick, long strides, he knelt beside the bed and took one of her hands and kissed it tenderly. "You mustn't say such things," he told her. "You know better than to say or think such things."

She threw her arms about his neck, almost strangling him in an excess of emotion. "I love you so, George. I love you so."

"A rather good thing," he said with an attempt at levity, "considering the young man's wife. Now don't fret and put on some lipstick and rouge. You don't want your new nurse to think you're a frump, do you?"

"George, she'll look at me and laugh. Please, George, don't have her. I don't need a nurse, really I don't. In another day or so I'll be able to hobble about on crutches."

"Nonsense," he rose, his blue eyes flashing. "Dr. Hall insists that you remain in bed for at least two weeks. You didn't break any bones, but you gave your back a bad wrench. And as for what Jane Bancroft thinks or doesn't think—well, it isn't very important." He turned as the doorbell rang. "That must be Jane now. I'll let her in."

Paying no attention to her cry of protest, he left the bedroom and hurried downstairs. As he passed through the living room he noticed that the strong wind blowing through the open windows had sent his wife's framed photograph flying across the room. He picked it up and restored it to its place of honor on the mantel. Looking at her face, he suddenly realized that he had done very well the day he had married Leslie. She had been a perfect wife in all respects. She had not protested when he told her he was taking her to America to live, and she had not protested when he told her that he had decided to dedicate his life to the service of others.

"I understand, George."

Nothing more. Just those three, quietly uttered words. And help. Help such as he had never expected to receive from her. Aware as he had not been aware in the beginning, that it would cost a great deal of money to found the sort of industrial training school he wanted to found, she had set out to charm people into backing the enterprise. And when she wanted to be charming she could be very charming indeed. In no time at all she had won Bruce Hall and Frederick Forsythe over to their side—and she had been very successful with women, too. Actually, there would have been no industrial training school if she hadn't done such a good job of work on Alice Cranby, their biggest backer. And they had won through. Because of Leslie.

He glanced about the room and felt angry with the girl who had come back from the past, the girl whose very presence in the vicinity was enough to cause Leslie to tremble with doubt, with fear. He cursed Bruce Hall for having arranged for Jane to be Leslie's nurse. But his common sense returned. Sooner or later, as Bruce Hall had said, the question would have to be settled. And now was the best time to dispose of it one way or another.

HE went to the door and opened it. It gave him a start to see Jane standing there in a green dress, her hair blowing, her brown eyes considering his face. She looked new, exactly as she had looked in Paris.

"Hello," he said stiffly, trembling despite himself. "It was very nice of you to offer to help us out."

"You shouldn't be surprised, George. Haven't I always helped you when I could?"

"Yes," he had to admit, "you always have. I was opposed to it. But Bruce Hall said Leslie needed a nurse, and you were the only nurse available."

"I was happy to come. You would be surprised if you knew just how happy I am to be here. It's a nice house, a nice room. Your wife, apparently, has good taste in furniture and decorations, as well as in men."

"Jane, stop talking like that. Stop being angry with me. You hurt yourself more than you hurt others."

"Do I?" She laughed and, rising, took a little tour of inspection around the room. She studied Leslie's picture on the mantel. "She looks like a good soul. I'm sorry it is necessary to break up her home."

He scowled, his fair face turning a deep red. But it turned red because he was angry, not because he was embarrassed. "I never loved you," he said, speaking the truth at last. "You were a pretty girl who was helping me and, because it seemed so important to you, I made love to you. To tell you the truth, you were pretty pathetic in Paris."

She whirled, her face turning pale. "You lie!"

"I am, a sense, yes," he said calmly. He went toward her and held her face up to the light. "You were very nice and I was very fond of you. I'll even go so far as to admit that I enjoyed your kisses. But as for loving you—Jane, look at me, then tell me if I'm the sort of man who would fall for a low little thing like you and in love with someone else all in the space of four or five months."

"George, stop pretending!"

"You love me," she turned and went to the hall. "You may not think so now, but you will see. One of these days you will forget this clever woman who has—"

"George! George, is she here yet?"

He sighed. "You had better go upstairs. She seems to be in pain. Bruce Hall left instructions for you to give her a hypo if she needed one."

Cochran Can't Sell First Lady Of Billiards--Game on Decline

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—It used to be quite a story when Welker Cochran came to town.

As recently as 1945, Cochran and Willie Hoppe sold out in 13 cities playing 90 games and 4800 points of three-cushion. Cochran winning by no more than 48 points shows how stiff was the competition.

Cochran retired to his San Francisco room then, did not again compete until he saw Masako Katsura win four of nine matches in the world tournament there, March 5-22.

The Japanese wife of an American Air Force sergeant fascinated the five-time three-cushion and three-time balkline champion. He decided to take the first woman ever to challenge man's supremacy with a cue on a tour.

Confident that he had a remarkable attraction of interest to men and women, Cochran booked exhibitions in Portland, Ore., Kansas City, Chicago, Detroit, New York and San Francisco, only to be bitterly disappointed in the attendance.

Cochran traces the decline of championship and exhibition billiards to manufacturers taking the stars off the payroll during the depression.

COCHRAN, 55, and Jake Schaefer, the latter now 57, calling it a career didn't help the three-cushion game, and now you hear Hoppe has called it quits while on top at 64, which is quite a story in itself.

Miss Katsura, 39, has been playing since she was 15, was developed by her brother-in-law, Tomio Kobashi, proprietor of one of Tokyo's 300 parlors. There were 3000 there before the war. Although she weighs no more than 95 pounds, Miss Katsura has the power of a man stroking the ball beautifully with strong wrist action.

Three years ago in straight-rail, the Japanese doll made a record run of 10,000, requiring her taking the balls around the table 27 times. She needed four and a half hours to complete the exhibition.

Miss Katsura's victories in her first world championship included upsets over the two who conquered Hoppe—Joe Procta and Ray Kilgore. Her other victims were Arthur Rubin, number four seeded, and Herb Hardt.

After defeating Miss Katsura, 50-35 in 40 innings, Hoppe declared that "if this little lady continues to compete in tournaments, within two years she'll be capable of defeating any man. Right now she knows more about the execution of safety shots than any of us."

Picture of a Pair who just waked up

HERE in the driveway is a Buick. It has just arrived. It belongs to this proud young couple. They've just "arrived" too.

They've arrived at a discovery—the discovery that owning a Buick instead of a "low-priced car" isn't so much a matter of money.

It's a matter of knowing the facts of life. Buick prices are closer to the prices of smaller, less powerful, less distinguished cars than most people think.

Why don't you check into this?

You'll find you could pay $300 to $400 more—and still not get the horsepower of this nimble beauty.

You could pay hundreds of dollars more—and still not get any more interior room, or richer fabrics.

But that's only part of the story.

The big thing about any car is the way it goes. So you ought to find out how this car rides the road—the freedom from bobble and sway that cost a million real dollars to develop.

You ought to sample the way Dynaflo Drive* feeds the power—with a steady swoop and unbroken smoothness in city traffic, on hills, or out on the open road.

And you ought to know how it feels to touch off that Fireball 8 Engine. With all its might, this high-compression valve-in-head gets a lot of miles from a gallon of gas.

We'll tell you this—because a lot of folks have told us this: No matter what car you're driving now—no matter what cars you've looked at—they'll never seem the same after you try this one.

Just give us a chance to prove it—and you'll have a lot of fun.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Court Will Review Case in Crawford-Erie Milk Dispute

Harrisburg (P)—The Dauphin County Court will hold a hearing June 26 to determine whether the milk supplier's license of the Erie-Crawford dairy cooperative should be suspended by Pittsburgh public health authorities.

The license was ordered suspended May 19 by the Pittsburgh City Health Department on charges the cooperative shipped uninspected milk to bottling plants.

John Barney, cooperative president, secured a temporary injunction from the court to prevent the city from lifting the license.

Robert J. Trace, deputy attorney general, said the June 26 hearing will determine whether or not the injunction shall be made permanent.

Anne N. Alpern, Pittsburgh city solicitor, has charged the cooperative shipped more than 100 tank-loads of uninspected milk into the Pittsburgh market. Barney denied the charges.

Trace pointed out a Pennsylvania law makes it mandatory that all milk which is to be pasteurized shall be inspected and approved before it is bottled and sold.

Former Pastor of Warren Church Is Dead in Lancaster

Former parishioners here have received with regret the news that the Rev. Ralph L. Fassinger died Sunday at his home in Lancaster after a long illness. He was about 80 years of age.

Mr. Fassinger served Salem Evangelical church here from December, 1924, until August, 1932, and will be remembered by many outside his own congregation for the interest he took in community affairs.

He retired from the active ministry about 10 years ago after a half-century of service in Ohio and western Pennsylvania. Among parishes he served were Northside in Pittsburgh, Sarver, Beaver Falls and Rochester, Pa.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. Charles Llewellyn, of Lancaster. A son, Ralph, Jr., who attended Warren High School and played football for the Dragons, preceded him in death and is buried in Oak-land cemetery.

Services in Rev. Fassinger's memory were held at 2:30 p. m. today at Mt. Oliver, with interment in Highwood cemetery.

Court Will Review Case in Crawford-Erie Milk Dispute

Harrisburg (P)—The Dauphin County Court will hold a hearing June 26 to determine whether the milk supplier's license of the Erie-Crawford dairy cooperative should be suspended by Pittsburgh public health authorities.

The license was ordered suspended May 19 by the Pittsburgh City Health Department on charges the cooperative shipped uninspected milk to bottling plants.

John Barney, cooperative president, secured a temporary injunction from the court to prevent the city from lifting the license.

Robert J. Trace, deputy attorney general, said the June 26 hearing will determine whether or not the injunction shall be made permanent.

Anne N. Alpern, Pittsburgh city solicitor, has charged the cooperative shipped more than 100 tank-loads of uninspected milk into the Pittsburgh market. Barney denied the charges.

Trace pointed out a Pennsylvania law makes it mandatory that all milk which is to be pasteurized shall be inspected and approved before it is bottled and sold.

Former Pastor of Warren Church Is Dead in Lancaster

Former parishioners here have received with regret the news that the Rev. Ralph L. Fassinger died Sunday at his home in Lancaster after a long illness. He was about 80 years of age.

Mr. Fassinger served Salem Evangelical church here from December, 1924, until August, 1932, and will be remembered by many outside his own congregation for the interest he took in community affairs.

He retired from the active ministry about 10 years ago after a half-century of service in Ohio and western Pennsylvania. Among parishes he served were Northside in Pittsburgh, Sarver, Beaver Falls and Rochester, Pa.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. Charles Llewellyn, of Lancaster. A son, Ralph, Jr., who attended Warren High School and played football for the Dragons, preceded him in death and is buried in Oak-land cemetery.

Services in Rev. Fassinger's memory were held at 2:30 p. m. today at Mt. Oliver, with interment in Highwood cemetery.

LUDLOW

Ludlow—Pfc Donald Beckwith, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Beckwith, has left for Seattle, Wash., after a seven-day leave at home. He has just returned from Germany, where he has served for two and one-half years.

Kenneth Matthew, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, was baptized at Moriah Lutheran church in an impressive ceremony, the Rev. Hans Pearson officiating in the presence of the family and several friends. Sponsors were Margaret Swanson and Virgil Johnson. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson, Kane. A small party was held at the family home later. Ethelyn Connelly was hostess to the Study Group at her home, with most of the members present. Mrs. E. W. Johnson, president, presided at a short business meeting in which plans were made for a picnic luncheon to be held at the park on the regular meeting date in June, each member to bring a luncheon. Mrs. Benjamin Connelly, program chairman for the evening, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. James Coulter of Kane, who gave a most interesting talk concerning England. Coffee was served at a beautifully appointed table. Mrs. Adolph Swanson entertained at her home in celebration of her birthday. A social hour was enjoyed, after which coffee was served. Out of town guests included the Rev. and Mrs. Herman Davidson, Johnsonburg, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, Warren.
